Abdominoplasty, Panniculectomy and Lipectomy

Description of Procedure or Service

Abdominoplasty is typically performed for cosmetic purposes, involves the removal of excess skin and fat from the pubis to the umbilicus or above, and may include tightening of the rectus muscle and creation or transposition of the umbilicus.

Panniculectomy is a surgical procedure used to remove a panniculus, which is an apron of fat and skin that hangs from the front of the abdomen. In certain circumstances, the panniculus can be associated with skin irritation and infection due to interference with proper hygiene and constant skin-on-skin contact in the folds underneath the panniculus. The presence of a panniculus may also interfere with daily activities.

Lipectomy is defined as an excision of a mass of subcutaneous adipose tissue and can be performed on various parts of the body. Lipectomy may also be referred to as belt lipectomy, brachioplasty, buttock or thigh lift and body lift.

Note: This Medical Policy is complex and technical. For questions concerning the technical language and/or specific clinical indications for its use, please consult your physician.

Policy Guidelines

Please note: BCBSNC does not cover cosmetic or not medically necessary services and will not reimburse for any services, procedures, drugs or supplies associated with those cosmetic or not medically necessary services.

The majority of requests for coverage for panniculectomy are for patients who have sustained significant weight loss, or who remain morbidly obese. Because surgical outcomes are superior when performed in patients who have achieved a stable weight, BCBSNC requires that stable weight be obtained prior to authorization of coverage for panniculectomy surgery, except in rare, unusual cases.

If documentation is requested, it should include the following:

1. Medical records indicating that the procedure will be or was performed to correct deformity resulting from accidental injury, trauma, or previous therapeutic process. In the absence of this documentation, the surgery or procedure must be considered cosmetic.
2. Photographs
3. Copies of consultations
4. Operative reports
5. Any other pertinent information
